Technical Projects:

PokeAPI Randomizer Application

Utilized HTML 5, CSS 3, and JavaScript to send a request to an API and display those results. I built a randomizer for pokemon that on a button push randomly displays 4 pokemon.

Live Cryptocurrency lookup

Utilized HTML 5, CSS 3, Bootstrap 4, and JavaScript to send a request to a secure API and display our response. I built a crypto lookup where you enter any stock tickers for the requested crypto and it will display its current rate in USD. Then deployed with Firebase. <https://hunter-api-project-2.web.app/>

Video Game Review Site

Utilized ReactJS, CSS, Bootstrap, and JavaScript to create both a server & client side of a React application that utilized CRUD then we deployed both our server and client side with Heroku.

Naruto Character Creator & Forum

Utilized ReactJS w/ class components, Typescript, Postgres, and Heroku to make an application with CRUD for 3 database tables, I used a popular anime named Naruto and created a character creation with a blog/forum where users can post, edit, delete their entries as the same with their characters.
